The Summer Programs

CAIS has three programs running concurrently during two four-week sessions throughout the summer to fit the needs of your child.

Mandarin Immersion Camp – Ages 3-5

No prior Chinese language experience needed. Learn Chinese through fun and culturally significant activities such as singing, cooking, arts and crafts and dance.

Mandarin Immersion Camp – Ages 6-13

No prior Chinese language experience needed. Children will be grouped according to Chinese language proficiency to ensure each camper gets the most out of his or her learning environment.

STARTALK Summer Program for San Francisco Unified School District (SFUSD) students

The objective of the STARTALK program is to provide enhancement, continuity for retention over the summer and a fun environment to reinforce and expand their language skills and culture. Priority registration is given to SFUSD students enrolled in Mandarin Immersion who are on free or reduced lunch.

Each day students experience Chinese language and culture through a variety of cultural activities in addition to classes focused on reading, writing, listening and speaking. Language acquisition comes naturally to students as a result of their participation in these fun, immersion-based activities. STARTALK funding enables us to make this Mandarin immersion summer camp available to SFUSD families that otherwise would not be able to have such an opportunity.

What We Do

- Reinforce and expand language skills
- Enhance writing skills
- Increase comprehension
- Build self-confidence
- Intensify focus
- Create positive relationships
- Enhance character
- Increase cultural understanding

Who We Are

In 1981, a group of multi-ethnic San Francisco Bay Area parents, educators and civic leaders implemented a compelling vision. They created a school with a bilingual, multicultural curriculum in English and Mandarin Chinese to prepare children for an increasingly interconnected world.

CAIS was the first school of its kind in the nation and today enrolls more than 450 students. The school has grown from two classrooms to a lively, bustling campus with two libraries, two computer labs, four science labs, an art studio, a health center, multiple multipurpose rooms, a gymnasium, two playgrounds and a new Pre-K campus located 10 minutes from the main campus.

This year's summer programs will be offered in two, four-week sessions. Session One will be held June 18-July 13. Independence Day will be observed on Monday, July 4. Session Two will be held July 16-August 10. All camps are from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Extended care, both morning and afternoon, is available for additional fees. The deadline to register is June 1, 2012.

To enroll in one of the programs, please look over the following pages carefully. Choices and costs for each option are outlined to help give you complete information about our program. Please review the Summer Program Tuition Timeline, which lists important dates for payments and refunds. The additional pages contain important information that must be reviewed and returned with your application. Please fill out each form and deliver or mail with your $100 registration fee by March 4, 2011 to:

Chinese American International School
c/o Summer Programs
150 Oak Street
San Francisco, CA 94102

Registration is on a first come, first serve basis. If our camp is full, we will place your child on a waitlist and your registration fee will be returned if your child is not admitted to camp.

If you have any questions please contact Kevin Lee, Director of Summer Programs, at (415) 865-6010 or k_lee@cais.org. (Please contact Kevin if you need these forms in Chinese.)

We look forward to seeing you and your family this summer!

Mandarin Immersion Camp for ages 3-5

Language Immersion

Chinese American International School, the leader in Mandarin-English education, offers this unique language immersion summer camp for children ages 3-5. Your child will learn Mandarin in an activity-based camp under the instruction of our own highly experienced teachers. No prior Chinese language skills are necessary to participate in this camp, but all participants must be at least three years old at the start of camp. Children will be assigned by language proficiency, as well as age, to ensure that every child gets the most out of his or her experience.

Curriculum: During each four-week session, children will experience Chinese language and culture through activities such as singing, Mandarin story time, Chinese dance, arts and crafts, cooking, and morning exercise. Language acquisition will come naturally to your child(ren) as a result of their participation in these fun, immersion-based, activities. Teachers will speak in Mandarin while using supplemental gestures, making it easy for the children to understand the tasks at hand. Simple Mandarin phrases will be learned from everyday use, such as saying “hello” every morning or “good bye” every afternoon.

*Please note that campers must be three-years-old and potty trained by the first day of camp.

“Wow! I was impressed by how much she’s learned being in Summer Camp for two sessions! She started signing Chinese songs within the first two weeks! She absolutely loved it and asked to stay for Extended Care!”---From a participating family:

Mandarin Immersion Camp for ages 6-13

Language Immersion

Chinese American International School, the leader in Mandarin-English education, offers this unique language immersion summer camp for children entering first through eight grades. Your child will learn Mandarin in an activity-based camp under the instruction of our own highly experienced teachers. No prior Chinese language skills are necessary to participate in this camp. Students will be separated by language ability, as well as age, to ensure that everyone gets the most out of his or her experience. Please review the following pages for a brief description of each language level and the expectations our teachers have for students of each level.

Curriculum: During each four-week session, students will experience Chinese language and culture through a wide variety of activities such as singing, Chinese calligraphy, Chinese brush painting, arts and crafts, drama, math, physical science, social study, and martial arts.

Language acquisition will come naturally to your child(ren) as a result of their participation in these fun, immersion-based activities. More advanced students will be challenged to enhance their language skills through a more intensive level of interaction with teachers and other students. Teachers will focus on building students' confidence in speaking Mandarin outside of the classroom situations. (Please see Class Descriptions for more detailed curriculum descriptions.)

Mandarin Immersion Camp for ages 6-13

Description of Summer Camp Classes:

Beginning level:

Students at this level either have no previous exposure to Chinese or have very limited knowledge of Chinese. They can usually recognize less than 50 Chinese characters. They are either unable to communicate in Chinese or able to communicate in isolated words, lists of words on the topics related to daily life or personal experience.

Low-intermediate level:

Students at this level have been exposed to Chinese consistently for more than one year. They can recognize more than 50 Chinese characters and write some Chinese characters. Students generally respond to simple question on the most common daily life topics such as greetings and self-introductions. Students are generally able to converse in isolated words, lists of words, memorized phrases, and fragment discourses and have difficulties to generate a complete sentence on their own. Students at this level should have basic knowledge of content including numbers, colors, animals, and family members.

Intermediate level:

Students at this level have been exposed to Chinese for more than one and one half year and recognize more than 100 Chinese characters and write simple Chinese characters and phrases. Students participate in simple and direct conversation related to daily activities and personal experience. Students are generally able to communicate in formulaic sentences. Students at this level have knowledge of content including application of numbers (time and calendar), colors, animals, family members, weather, seasons, food, time, and places.

Upper-Intermediate level:

Students at this level have been exposed to Chinese consistently for approximately two years and recognize 100 Chinese characters or more. Students can obtain and give information in simple and direct conversation on topics related to daily activities and personal events. Students are generally able to communicate in non-formulaic sentences and can combine language elements in sentences and produce strings of sentence. Students are able to read and write in simple sentences in Chinese. Students at this level have knowledge in the content area such as application of numbers (time and calendar), colors, animals, family members, weather, seasons, food, time, and places.

Advanced level:

Students at this level have been exposed to Chinese consistently for more than two years and recognize more than 150 Chinese characters. Students can participate in conversations in most informal and some formal settings on topics of personal experience. They are usually able to converse in non-formulaic and longer stretched sentences. Students are able to narrate and provide descriptions in logical time frames. They can generally read and write paragraphs. Students at this level have knowledge in content areas and in addition to the previous level, dining, shopping, and dining.

Cultural Enrichment

The following is a sample of the cultural enrichment classes campers will have the opportunity to experience. All students participating in our full-day program will have the chance to participate.

Brush Painting Class

In this class, students will have an exceptional chance to explore the unique qualities of Chinese visual art. Emphasis will be placed on the simple pleasure of making images, while learning basic skills in Chinese painting, calligraphy, the use of Chinese ink, color, Xuan paper, and special brushes. The instruction will include an introduction to special characters that represent the spirit of Chinese culture.

Chinese Cooking

This is one of our campers favorite classes. Campers will have the opportunity to learn to make, dumplings, green onion pancakes, egg rolls, and many tasty desserts.

Chinese Arts and Crafts

Our campers will experiment with a variety of media to expand their knowledge of art and art theory. Having the Asian Art Museum as our neighbor allows us every opportunity to visit the various exhibits and educational programs.

Chinese Chorus and Percussion

Campers will experience both modern and traditional Chinese music. Chorus class is taught in a fun and energetic environment. Percussion will give campers the opportunity get out their musical energy.
