Eggs to Fry: My Observation Journal

Draw and describe what you observe.

Today's date 3/2/17

There are tubes in the back of the tank, along with the thermometer with a green line showing what temperature is the correct one. The trout eggs are orange with two black dots as eyes. They are arranged in different spots so it looks more interesting. The trout eggs are very cute.

How old are the eggs or fish?

The eggs are 0 years old.

What is the temperature of the water?

54°F, 12°C
Eggs to Fry: My Observation Journal

Draw and describe what you observe.

Magnified View

Today's date: 3/9/2017

The fish were tiny! These yolk sacs were big compared to them. They were so cute! I am so excited that they have hatched.

Aquarium

How old are the eggs or fish?

1 week old

What is the temperature of the water?

21°C
Eggs to Fry: My Observation Journal

The Trout are now Fry, swimming properly now, and their yolk sacks are almost gone.

How old are the eggs or fish?

Three weeks exactly.

What is the temperature of the water?

60°F / 16°C.
Rainbow Trout Reflection

As I get ready to release our fry, I am thinking that they might not be safe in the wild.

I am thankful to this trout for because it was different and showed us what could happen to a trout when it gets stuck.

If my trout could talk, it would say, "why are people observing me every day?"

My final advice to this trout is learn how to survive in the wild and hunt in the wild.

My favorite part about hatching rainbow trout in our classroom was seeing them grow up.